DETAILED ACTION

The various amendments to the specifications have not been entered as applicant has filed many multiple copies of various specifications and it is difficult to determine which specification is intended to be entered. Further, Applicant has not included a statement saying that the specification adds no new matter.

Additionally, Applicant is reminded that when submitting an amendment, to file only one (1) copy of the claims. The claims also should not include a summary showing the changes, the body of the claims should be used to show where the changes are (by underlining or bracketing). New claims should be added after existing claims. It is unclear how applicant can have new claim numbers and then have two amended claims after new claims. It appears that applicant is attempting to renumber the claims and move them around.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. Claims 17-25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. The subject matter of added in claims 17-24 are new matter that was not described in the original disclosure.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1 and 26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Monagas (5,524,928).

Monagas discloses an automobile restraint system including a seat belt consisting of at least one shoulder belt portion (14 in Figure 1), a lap belt portion (46; Figure 1), and an extending belt portion (12; Figure 3), a main buckle assembly (26; Figure 1) having a master release button (28; Figure 2) and attached to the floor of the vehicle adjacent to a first seat side of a vehicle (see 22 in Figure 1), a lower belt deflector (44; Figure 4) deflecting and loosely guiding the shoulder belt portion and attached to the floor (see Figure 3). Monagas also discloses a main latch plate (32 in Figure 2) moveable along the lap belt, and a latch plate (30; Figure 2) which is an anti-submarining plate, whereby the lower and upper part of a passenger's body are restrained by the lap and shoulder belt when the main latch plate is plug-in connected to one of the anti-submarining buckle assemblies. The lap belt portion is subdivided into two anti-submarining belt portions (see Figure 1) to restrain thighs of the passenger.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 2 and 3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Monagas in view of Tame (5,123,673).

Monagas is discussed above and fails to show the anti-submarining buckle assemblies located on the seat cushion.

Tame teaches a seat belt system for a vehicle seat including belt buckle assemblies (32, 42; Figure 2) located on the seat cushion and having a common release button (56; Figure 4a) to allow a safe use of the seat and ease in releasing the belt.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Monagas with the teachings of Tame to include a common release button on the seat cushion in order to allow ease of use of the seat.

Allowable Subject Matter

7. Claims 4-16 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

8. Applicant should submit an argument under the heading "Remarks" pointing out disagreements with the examiner's contentions. Applicant must also discuss the references applied against the claims, explaining how the claims avoid the references or distinguish from them.

Conclusion

9. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

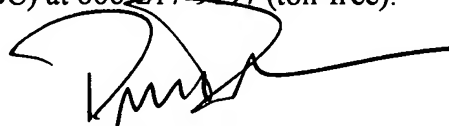

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
